"STATEHOOD FOR NEW MEXICO"

Must Work for Statehood

It is interesting to note the comments of the various territorial newspapers relative to plans now being considered for obtaining statehood for New Mexico.

The republican papers are unanimous in placing statehood as the first consideration, and their editorial comments are favorable to the burying of all personalities and working for the one paramount thing—Statehood.

On the other hand there is an inclination on the part of several democratic papers to regard this move for statehood as a scheme on the part of the governor and certain republicans for political purposes.

The republican papers of New Mexico have worked for statehood ever since there was any possibility of statehood and in fact for some years before. Several democratic papers have been equally as loyal to the cause regardless of party lines. The democratic papers, however, that are now opposing statehood or hindering it by poorly concealed personal prejudices, will find in the end that they and not the statehood cause will be the loser.

The republican leaders are at Santa Fe in consultation with Governor Curry and they are discussing statehood and can so that when the governor meets the president next month, he will be fully informed of all the facts in the case. The democratic leaders and the democratic papers should caucus immediately and decide whether or not they intend to work for statehood or whether they intend to oppose it. It will be worth something to know just where they stand on this question at this time.

Those who do intend to work for statehood must work in harmony and so far as our republican ranks are concerned there will be no trouble. The views of the party leaders will be given due consideration by the governor and on the other hand the party leaders will work hand in hand with the governor for statehood.

There is no use in denying the fact that the governor's interview with the president next month will have much to do with the launching of another statehood boom in this territory.

The governor is new on the job and he does not care to make a false step, although he has already declared himself for statehood.

This much is certain however, and that is that another statehood campaign is at hand in New Mexico and the chances are 99 to 100 in our favor at this time.

Just how the campaign will be conducted is a matter for future developments to decide.

The most important thing at present is for all concerned to think the matter over thoroughly and decide just where they stand. Harmony is most essential in this campaign since it is not so much a question of party or person, but of New Mexico and her future.

The republican papers and the republican leaders are for statehood. Governor Curry leads the movement.

With the co-operation of the president and certain leaders of the next congress, backed by the people of this territory, statehood is ours. The Citizen believes we will get statehood.

Congressman Lovering, of Massachusetts, says that more ability is employed to break the laws than to make them. He should remember that congress is in session only a few months, while thousands of lawyers have to make a living all the year round.

The town marshal of Fairfield, Illinois, was asked to shoot a dog. He fired at the animal and instead shot a woman. A press dispatch says the marshal regrets the accident. Probably the woman does too, but how about the dog?

"Ain't it funny what a difference just a few years make?" When Teddy Roosevelt was scrambling up San Juan hill Alfonso of Spain was "the child king." Now his first son and heir, we are informed, "will soon have a nursery companion."

If the scientists fail to locate the section of the earth in which the recent big earthquake occurred, we shall begin to suspect that the shock was merely caused by Mr. Taft sitting down a little more suddenly than usual.

Congressman Burton will now take a fall out of Mayor Tom Johnson, of Cleveland, Ohio, and it is said, he is supported by the president and by Mr. Taft. Ohio will continue as the storm center of dinky political rows.

The king of Spain recently underwent an operation at the hands of skilled surgeons for the relief of the nasal passage. An operation to relieve him of some of the duties of king would doubtless please Alfonso also.

A Southern paper indignantly denies that Bryan is the smartest man in the democratic party. Anyhow he is smart enough to corral all the democratic presidential nominations.

Bryan refers to Taft as the "manana statesman," but the big secretary might just mention Bryan as "poco tiempo" of the democratic party. In other words Mr. Bryan has not yet arrived.

An Ohio chemist announces the discovery of an antitoxin that will kill diphtheria germs in three minutes. Like the celebrated Civil war headline, this is "important if true."

Ten thousand veterans of the great Civil war marched for two hours in the rain the other day. It takes more than a rain to keep the old veteran from marching.

Mr. Ingalls, of Ohio, who wishes to go to the senate, might do well to read the famous sonnet on "Opportunity," by the late Mr. Ingalls, of Kansas.

Little does Mr. Forsaker care how long Mr. Taft continues to live a life on the ocean wave and to maintain a home on the rolling deep.

An automobile disaster seems to be the one horrible example that has not the slightest deterrent effect on people who own honk wagons.

Men who work and earn an honest dollar generally have to hand it over to others who are not at all particular about its morals.

Captain Mahan keeps on turning out books on the art of war just as though there were no such thing as a peace congress.

The board of health has placed a bounty of ten cents each on rats in San Francisco. We may now expect a trust in rats.

Dermatologists of the world, in session in New York, are likely to put a new face on several matters now troubling the ladies.

More riots in San Francisco. The best thing that ill-fated city can do is to close its gates and quietly fade off the map.

A good many of us are hoping that all this agitation against swollen fortunes will be ended by the time we have one.

One of the worst offenders against the pure food law is the barber who insists on putting lather in his victim's mouth.

It is probably no more true that tin soldiers make fighters of boys than it is that Teddy bears make growlers of girls.

The fact that butter is to be advanced to 50 cents a pound by the trust is likely to cow the economical housewife.

An Ohio judge has been called upon to decide whether or not cider is an intoxicant. This should not be hard.

The Kansas editors are for Taft for president. This ends the Taft boom.

WHY DID YOU COME WEST?

To rest, recuperate, hunt, fish, breathe fresh pure air, see mountain scenery, get a change, live a new and fascinating life under new conditions and get food that needs no pure food law.

That's why you came west! There is a beautiful little valley that nestles between the highest mountains of the Rockies on the upper Pecos river; ideal altitude, 7,000 feet, and temperature identical with Albuquerque. Its streams swarm with trout and the woods and ranges are filled with game large and small. The ranchers live the life of the west. There are mountain lion, bear, deer and wolves for the hunter. There are saddle ponies to be had for the asking, rooms in a big, rambling ranch house with wide verandas, tent rooms or a cabin if you want it. The days are never dull. You see a great ranch and the genuine western life. Fresh milk, butter and eggs—all you can drink and eat. Sleep in blankets at night—fish in your shirt sleeves during the day. You couldn't spend more than $9 a week if you tried. It is the place you are looking for. Accommodations for both men and women.

Inquire this office or address THE VALLEY RANCH, Pecos, N. M.

ABOUT TOWN

B. Meyer, from Jemez, is in the city today.

W. Mitchell, of Las Vegas, is in the city on business.

L. H. Crocker, of San Marcial, is a business visitor in the city.

The "White Elephant" is receiving a coat of green paint today.

Officer Highbargin is on his beat against after a few days off duty on account of illness.

Two car loads of horses from the ranch of Victor Sals in Valencia county left from this city for San Antonio, Texas, this morning.

Annual house cleaning has been completed at the Commercial club.

The interior of the second floor of the building has been thoroughly renovated and the wood work polished.

The Socorro base ball team will arrive in the city tomorrow morning on train No. 19 for games with Barajas and the Geronimos. The games will be played at Traction park tomorrow afternoon and are bound to attract a large crowd.

O. Anderson, N. L. Blair, A. Dimas, E. Kramer, W. Moon and J. Skinner formed a sextette of Albuquerqueans who rode the goat at a meeting of the Women of the World last night. An enjoyable smoker followed the work of the meeting.

Joseph Scotti, the musician, has become the proprietor of the Electric theater on south Second street. The purchase was purchased by Mr. Scotti a few days ago and is now under his direct management. Mr. Scotti will furnish the music and singing for the place himself.

Tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock, at Strong's chapel, will be held the funeral services of Jesse French, who died here Sept. 5. The services will be conducted by Rev. Rollins, the Lead Avenue Methodist church, and all friends of the family are invited to attend. On next Tuesday John French, a brother of the deceased, will leave with the remains for Knoxville, where the interment will take place.

Owing to the rapid growth of the congregation of the German Lutheran church, Rev. Moser will hold services here every Sunday instead of every other Sunday as has been his habit in the past. The Belen Lutheran church, where Rev. Moser used to preach every Sunday that he did not preach here, is a minister of its own after October 1st.

Rev. Mathiesen, recently of Garber, Oklahoma, has been engaged to fill the pulpit of the Belen Lutheran church.

After an hour's delay, "Zeke," the rural play by the Walters & Sutherland company, was presented at the Elks' opera house last night before a fair sized audience. The production abounds in laughable situations, but as a play is pretty poor stuff.

Clyde Long in the part of Zeke, and Miss Tride Lewis, as Lettie Newton, played the parts from being a frost. The acting of these two called forth hearty applause. The Elks' orchestra rendered a number of excellent musical numbers before the show began and between the acts.

The Albuquerque Woman's club opened what promises to be an active year yesterday afternoon with an interesting meeting. The program was one of literary selections by the literary department. The next meeting will be in charge of the drama department. The donation of Albert Fisher of a table for the secretary was considered and a vote of thanks was extended to Mr. Fisher. The secretary was instructed to extend the sympathy of the club to Mrs. Adah Borley, of Datt, N. M., who was recently stricken blind.

One of the most hotly contested games of base ball ever took place this afternoon on a vacant lot in the Fourth ward. One side was the second nine of the Fourth ward public school and on the other was the second nine of the Sisters' school.

The score was 7 to 6 in favor of the Sisters' school in the eighth inning when the umpire cheated and the Fourth ward school quit. The umpire counted ten and the Fourth ward school nine did not return to the field and the umpire awarded the game to the sister school.

Manager T. L. Fairchild, of the Boston Comic Opera company, stated today that the company would arrive in the morning from El Paso, where it has made such a hit during the past several weeks, to open an engagement here tomorrow night at the Casino with "Fra Diavolo." The El Paso papers state that Fra Diavolo was one of the finest productions ever seen in that city.

Because there is a treat in store for Albuquerque people tomorrow night. The same play will be presented Monday, but a new bill Tuesday with changes following each Tuesday, Thursday and Sunday night. The company won its way into the people's hearts here during the summer and will be well received.

On next Tuesday there will be a grand fall opening at the millinery establishment of Miss Jane McPartland, 312 West Central avenue. Miss McPartland and an assistant have been on a six weeks' trip to New York and other eastern markets and while there purchased a big line of ladies' hats which have arrived here and will be shown for the first time on Tuesday. The Reliance Electric and Construction company is now preparing the apparatus for an elaborate electric display in the store.

In the decorations oak leaves and 200 electric bulbs of three colors, red, green and blue, will be used. The opening will be held from 3 o'clock to 5 in the afternoon, and from 7 to 9 in the evening and at those hours the latest Paris styles in bonnets and all things up to date in the millinery line will be exhibited.

Professor L. Mauro's orchestra will render music both afternoon and evening.

lived up to their income and beyond it, without a thought that debts must be paid. They are ordinary cases, too.

Merchants want business and desirable custom can always secure what it wants. These young fellows do as the one quoted, pay part of the time when they have the money and don't think that they are getting in deeper every day.

Had no Accounts.
None of the four had account books of their expenses but they could tell pretty generally as to what they spent in the principal lines by the bills which they had in their rooms, some receipted and some not. In fact, of eight young men who were interviewed, only one kept an account of his expenses and he admitted that he forgot to put down about half until he counted up his charge after paying his bills, and then he charged the deficit to "incidental."
